Memory Care

While a majority of providers address needs for those with Alzheimer's and other dementias, these pages in The GuideBook show providers specializing in the area of Memory Care and providing separate, distinct and specific services geared exclusively to the needs of those with dementia. This section has been created to assist clients who require or desire such dementia / memory specific care.

Skilled Nursing Facility

The communities designated as Memory Care offer dementia programs in a designated unit not integrated with the general population. Many times this is a secured setting. Some of the other features to look for may include: consistent staff who receive ongoing dementia training, specialized programs and a supportive environment. These communities may be accredited by the Joint Commission of Hospitals as a "special care unit."

Assisted Living and Residential Assisted Living

Assisted Living and Residential Assisted Living with special care units providing dementia care must comply with the Assisted Living with Dementia Care License advanced by the state legislature.

The policies and procedures that must be developed and implemented are:

1. Philosophy of how services are provided based upon the assisted living facility licensee's values, mission and promotion of person-centered care and how the philosophy shall be implemented;
2. Evaluation of behavioral symptoms and design of supports for intervention plans, including nonpharmacological practices that are person-centered and evidence-informed;
3. Wandering and egress prevention that provides detailed instructions to staff in the event a resident elopes;
4. Medication management, including an assessment of residents for the use and effects of medications, including psychotropic medications;
5. Staff training specific to dementia care;
6. Description of life enrichment programs and how activities are implemented;
7. Description of family support programs and efforts to keep the family engaged;
8. Limiting the use of public address and intercom systems for emergencies and evacuation drills only;
9. Transportation coordination and assistance to and from outside medical appointments; and
10. Safekeeping of residents' possessions.

The policies and procedures must be provided to residents and the residents' legal and designated representatives at the time of move-in.

Adult Day Service

Adult day programs providing specific dementia care offer specialized programming that is separate, for a majority of the programming day, from those clients who are not cognitively impaired. This specialized programming considers the unique needs of the cognitively impaired and implements techniques that promote success. This can happen in a separate physical area or in a separate area of a large room, as long as a therapeutic environment can be created.
